

CHAMBER FOR NEW TAX LAWS.

National Commerce Body Committee Makes Report.

Repeal of Excess Profits Im- post is Favored.

Would Increase Certain In- come Schedules.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Repeal of the excess profits tax and increase in certain income taxes and the imposition of new excise taxes on articles "of wide use but not of first necessity" are substitutes recommended in the report of the committee on Taxation of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, made public today after nearly a year's study of the existing taxation and revision of the tax laws. A moderate and graduated tax upon undistributed earnings of corporations also is suggested.

The committee opposes a sales tax but in order that there may be a full expression of opinion by the 140 members of the chamber, which the chamber's sales tax is included in the questionnaire to be submitted as a means of determining the final policy of the chamber.

TAXES ON INCOMES.

While the committee recommends a moderate tax upon undistributed earnings of corporations the form of tax which Secretary of the Treasury, Elihu Root, and others have proposed to obtain the bulk of the revenue needed to make up for the repeal of the excess profits tax, it holds that such a procedure would most of it from taxes on incomes. The committee does not suggest any increase in the general income rates but says there should be moderate increases in the lower part of the schedule of surtaxes on individual incomes.

Besides the repeal of the excess profits tax, increase in the lower brackets of income surtax rates and reduction of the tax on undistributed earnings and a sales tax, other proposals in the questionnaire submitted by the committee to the national organizations include the following:

THE QUESTIONNAIRE.

Payment by individual stockholders or corporations of their own normal tax on dividends, the normal tax on which is now collected at the source.

Withdrawal of tax exemption privilege from future estates of executives and classes which have hitherto had that privilege and are subject to a Federal tax.

Exemption of American citizens residing abroad from the American tax upon income derived abroad and not remitted to the United States.

Abolition over a period of years in which the excess tax taken in the period of profits arising from the export of capital assets.

A modification of the law to make exchanges of property or a like or similar nature merely a replacement involving no gain or loss, with proper safeguards to prevent evasion of taxes.

Re-determination of taxes on income of the preceding year to make allowances for net losses and investment losses.

Ascertainment by the government of exact amount of income taxes due in advance of payment as a partial or annual prepayment, gradually extending sometimes for many months, or even years, after payment could be settled in their own interest.

The questionnaire includes three questions relative to the sales tax. One is whether a sales tax should be imposed on the lower consumer's tax and general excise taxes. Another question is whether a sales tax should be imposed in addition to those two proposals.

The third question asks the members of the chamber to indicate a preference as to the general turnover or a limited turnover tax and a retail sales tax. The committee report makes it plain that in its opinion the general sales tax will probably bring back some time to come. With this in mind, it urges changing the manner of levying the important.

PRINCIPALS IN STAGG KIDNAPING CASE.

Innocent Cause of Father Facing Long Prison Sentence.

Cause Celebre in Tacoma.

Left to right are Mrs. Edith Cunningham and Mrs. Alice Cunningham and Baby Bobby Stagg. While his father is facing a prison sentence of from ten to fifteen years in prison for kidnapping him, Bobby, the innocent cause of a nation-wide search is having a happy time with his mother and grandmother at Tacoma, Wash. Bobby was taken from the home of his mother last September and was not returned until October, after a hurried flight across the country and into Canada. Betty Brainerd, a newspaper woman, was arrested in New York for complicity in the crime, but the charge against her was dismissed.

TANT Taxes, but without reducing the amount of yield.

While the committee is urging the government and on the part of the people is urged. The committee says the government must use profits of taxes for purposes which are not for reducing the floating debt. It is declared that this is not time for the diversion of receipts from heavy taxes to new undertakings.

PAJRIE'S GET THRED.

At 12:30 a.m. the hall was jammed. The 150 tables were crowded and dancing was confined to the men's waiting room, where Eddie, a venerable negro porter, opened a cubby hole and invited the men to a member. The contents of the number made a profound impression on Officer No. 44 or 15 and his lips cracked appreciatively as he spoke.

In the language of the committee, "profits arising from sale of capital assets should be allocated over the period for the several years in the period of profits arising from the sale of capital assets."

A modification of the law to make exchanges of property or a like or similar nature merely a replacement involving no gain or loss, with proper safeguards to prevent evasion of taxes.

Re-determination of taxes on income of the preceding year to make allowances for net losses and investment losses.

The fourth question is whether a graduated tax upon undistributed earnings of corporations should be imposed. In addition to the general surtax, the committee suggests a sales tax.

The fifth question asks the members of the chamber to indicate a preference as to the general turnover or a limited turnover tax and a retail sales tax. The committee report makes it plain that in its opinion the general sales tax will probably bring back some time to come. With this in mind, it urges changing the manner of levying the important.

CONGRESS WILL FOREGO HOLIDAY.

Important Legislation to be Christmas Gift.

Farmers' Relief Measure Has Leading Place.

House to Adjourn from Thursday to Monday.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—By abandoning the usual Christmas-New Year recess for the first time in years, Congressional leaders plan to put through a heavy program this week and next month of pieces of legislation to the nation as holiday gifts.

Farmers' relief measures hold the leading places on the program, which contemplates final adoption of the resolution to revive the War Finance Corporation, passage by the House of the bill relating to agricultural products and progress on several other important measures.

The war finance resolution, adopted yesterday by the House, will go back to the Senate tomorrow, either for immediate acceptance or the House will add its own amendments to the bill relating to farm loans or for a brief conference. The resolution is expected to pass by early next week.

The House plans to take up the emergency tariff bill Wednesday with the sundry civil and military bills.

REVIVES HOPE OF EX-KINGS.

REVIVES OLD HOPES.

Now the restoration of Constantine has revived the hopes of the monarchists in all countries. Constantine has come back for one reason only—he has been kept out of war. The moral in the incident is not that the Greeks are infatuated by monarchism, but that they are sick to death of the idea of peace, no matter what form of government is necessary to secure it. The Greeks are the frame of minds of peoples everywhere. With the exception of Lloyd George, there is not now in power in all Europe a single statesman who is responsible for the war or who had anything to do with carrying it on. In all the defeated countries there has been an absolute change of both men and systems. In the victorious countries the men are gone, but the systems remain.

SPIRIT OF WAR.

The French are still saturated with the spirit of the war, dragging Europe down deeper and deeper into the pit. The meaning of the Greek restoration is that the kings are coming back, but that the antiwar tide in Europe is rising and will sweep away every government, whether monarchic or republican, which is blocking the way to peace.

The French, pursuing a desperate policy, have resorted to using the helplessness of the Allies to the face of the Greek nation. A year ago the return of Constantine would have been the salvation of England and of France. The world would have sent their armies and navies flying toward Greece. Today no one can tell two pence whether Constantine is a king or a thug or in a lodging-house.

The French, pursuing a desperate policy, have resorted to using the helplessness of the Allies to the face of the Greek nation. A year ago the return of Constantine would have been the salvation of England and of France. The world would have sent their armies and navies flying toward Greece. Today no one can tell two pence whether Constantine is a king or a thug or in a lodging-house.

But the despondent condition of affairs in Greece is keeping the world out of this ruinous war. White it was only enemy people who suffered, France could go ahead. But the French come home to find the people who have been left behind are a leech on it. Neither the French nor the English people would today tolerate an idea of any new war anywhere in the interest of statesmen.

In England we are in the midst of a cold fit of most intense depression. The first serviceable squanderous government has been beaten off by the House of Commons, which is largely filled with the temper of the people. But the temper of the country grows more bitter day by day.

The collapse of the price of shares seems to be continuing, increasing rapidly, and I am told that in Coventry, for example, the price of a house is half what it was when $16 a shot is asked, so The Times party left.

Many scores of automobiles were parked on the lawns and around the club when the big blue sign at the club still announced to a thirsty world:

CREMATE UNCLAIMED BODIES AT ASYLUM.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 19.—The practice of cremating unclaimed bodies under the boilers in the engine room at Bayview Asylum was brought to light yesterday by Dr. C. W. Wood, manager of the board of governors of city charities.

Dr. Wood disclosed this method in a statement denying charges of Dr. J. W. Williams, that he was playing politics at Bayview.

ANCIENT SYNAGOGUE FOUND.

synagogue and other articles of historic value have been discovered by archaeologists at Tiberias, Palestine, says a Jerusalem dispatch. They date back to the Talmudic period of the Jews.

Vernon also was present. He was

Senate leaders are prepared for a tilt early this week on the motion of Senator LaFollette to reconsider passage of the Poindexter anti-inflation bill. A motion by Senator Poindexter to table the LaFollette motion, a move barring debate under the Senate rules, is in prospect.

IMMIGRATION BILL.

The ancestry immigration measure, passed by the House, is to be taken up Tuesday by the Senate Immigration Committee, which is expected to adjourn hearings after the holidays.

Another House bill, that proposing repeal of general war laws, will be taken up Tuesday by the Senate.

The committee will hold hearings tomorrow, the day after the

Alarming Gain
in Drug Traffic
Under Dry Law.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Dec. 19.—A campaign to stamp out drug and dope traffic in Chicago was ordered today by Chief of Police Charles C. Fitzmorris.

Hereafter, according to the order, every person suspected of being under the influence of drugs will be immediately arrested and will be grilled in an effort to ascertain the source of the stimulant.

According to Chief Fitzmorris a great increase in the use of drugs has been noticed since prohibition went into effect. Many of the crimes for which he attributes the rise in figure can now be traced directly to drug addicts, the Chief said.

"Stamp out the dope and we will go home," he said. "We are trying to a crimeless city," was his comment.

SMOKING OF PIPES, CIGARS AND CIGARETTES BEING GREATLY OVERDONE.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—Health Commissioner Royal S. Copeland today warned against indecent smokers, those who over-indulged in tobacco and who did so at the wrong time and in the wrong places. He said the use of tobacco in pipes, cigars and cigarettes was being greatly overdone.

This was not only evident in statistics of the sale of tobacco but one could see it with the eyes and smell it with the nose.

He warned users of the weed that those who were over-indulging in it were giving ammunition to those behind the blue laws campaign and that their practice would be made use of when the fight against tobacco really began. This was over and above the social effects to the health of those who used tobacco.

He thought the dinner cigar a mistake and he advised stopping smoking at restaurants as unfair to nonsmokers. He said the harm however, in the cigarette.

Cigars and oranges will form a large part of the gift, it was said.

CHARLEY MAYO GETS IN FIRST.

Chicago Golf "Pro" Wins Special Pasadena Tourney.

Establishes New Course Record for Eighteen Holes.

Leo Diegel is Second After Holding Lead for Spell.

Playing a game marked by marvelous mashie shots and excellent putting, Charley Mayo of the Edgewater Country Club, Chicago, led the field home in his first amateur tournament for professionals at the Pasadena Country Club yesterday. His medal score for twenty-seven holes was 109.

Orchard, it had been intended to play their ninth hole starting at o'clock in the morning, but the rain made this impossible. The sun came out eventually, drying the greens just enough to make them playable and the competition began at 12:30 over the abbreviated distance.

SETS UP NEW MARK.

In achieving his 109 for the two-day tourney Mayo established a new course record by shooting the last sixteen in 69, three better than the mark set up by Dr. Paul Hunter, amateur champ, about a week ago.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

There's Always a Way.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

In one of his admirable essays about women, W. L. George says that a wife is an idiot if she doesn't find out on her honeymoon whether swearing or crying is most effective with her husband.

And a husband is equally obtuse if he doesn't ascertain within six months of marriage whether to pull the cayenne stuff or his wife's eye salve.

The trouble with the partner of a bosom, but the trouble with most married couples is that they never take the trouble to find out the combination.

They are as stupid as people would be who believed there was no place like home.

Then there are the names trying to climb over stone wall, which last two feet away was a doorway through which they might pass with ease and comfort. If only they had time enough to turn the knob the right way.

Or there are the men who run their wives' heads and more disposition, or such tightwads that nothing but their own brutal and selfish desires appeal to them. They appear to get married only to have some helpless creature in their power, quiet or to impart to her husband all the joys of life, and to bring him to a cruel humor, and nothing that any woman can do or say would alter their opinion.

Some men are, however, extremely rare, and any woman can get along with the average man, and get her way with him, if only she has sense enough to let him run his course for the right way, so that he will pull under her hand.

Others are the men who study her and find out whether swearing or crying is more effective, as Mr. George puts it.

There is the traditional belief in the feminine sex that the easiest way to run a man is by hydraulic power, and so they turn on the water works, and then there was a thing. Probably this is good as a general measure. There is something in a woman's tears that melts the heart of a man, both when he is in the cry-baby to stop her howling.

But tears do not avail with everyone. There are the ladies like inviting every lachrymose lady to come and sob it out on their shoulders.

There are other men to whom the woman's weeping is a red rag to a mad bull, and who jump up and grab their hats, and jump the front door behind them.

Then there are the husbands who begin to tremble, and her nose commences to get red.

Therefore, the wise woman makes sure of her man, and the husband wants to know whether it softens or pickles him, and she pins her faith to the tear jug, or throws it into the fire, and then she waits.

Accordingly, if the first time a bride weeps her husband puts her on the shoulder and says, "There, there, you have got me now," and then goes off to cultivate her tear ducts, but, if he bows at her and tells her not to worry, she is a fool if she doesn't can the job stuff.

If a man is inclined to be tyrannical and high-tempered, then a woman only chance is to beat him to his own strength. She must go to it first, and develop ways that have to be entered to and a temper that makes her stand in the wrong.

Women can do this because when it comes to an argument, no man can talk one of the female gender out of it.

Nerves and weak hearts are weapons with which thousands of women have been able to hold their husbands to their feet, but to make use of a physical infirmity that appeals to a man's sympathy and desire to get out of the woman's way.

Women can do this because when it comes to an argument, no man can talk one of the female gender out of it.

One likes to think of women achieving results in a subtle manner, and using mere diplomacy in dealing with her husband. In the most elementary form this consists of a wife's using some discretion in choosing the time and place and conditions in which to make a re-woman knows is that men have a strong aversion to having their backs turned to them, and having official proclamation made that they are the heads of the household, and that the man this empty honor you may do with him as you choose, and why women so seldom take the trouble to know what the man's secret is, when the reward is so disproportionate to the effort, is a thing that amazes me.

If a woman wants a new car, if she wishes to have the living-room done over in brown, or to send John off to college, she should know that she is going to have him do these things and either get them after a bloody fight with her husband, or she can tell the man she will give in at the last, or not get them at all if he is the sort that sticks when he gets his back up.

On the other hand, if her husband, "My dear, I believe we are right in thinking we need a new car. Didn't you say that it was time we had one? We have a muave living, like you?" You are such a wonderful judge of motors and know so much about mechanics, you can help me make a mistake, an hour off and help me decide on the living-room decoration. Your taste is so artistic, and I'd like you to help me buy a book, and more disposition, or such tightwads that nothing but their own brutal and selfish desires appeal to them. Giving the Real Thing to Cakeless New Rich and Famous.

"YES, the hotels here serve delicious soups, wonderful entrees, salads and ice that literally melt in your mouth, but there isn't a slice of real cake in the whole city."

Mr. Clark Ruggles, of Gardner, also was in New York on a visit some ten years ago, and this remark happened to be made by a friend of his. He stopped at one of the largest hotels in the metropolis. She thought little of it at the time, but when she was asked to send the person with the "cake appetite" a big fluffy chocolate cake, the moment she heard her husband had sent for it, she remembered it.

Meanwhile her husband had died, and she was the entire support of her children, and almost nothing left with which to support herself and her daughter.

"I'm going down to New York," she said, "and I'm going to it first, and develop ways that have to be entered to and a temper that makes her stand in the wrong.

Mute Testimony to Killer's Wrath.

APPEAL FOR "SONS" FUND.

With only three days remaining in which to raise the $2500 set as the goal for the Christmas drive to procure sweaters for the 500 boys of the Sons of America, Chairman Darcey, head of the Americanization department of the Y.M.C.A., yesterday issued an appeal for even greater support of the cause.

It is planned to bring the campaign to a close on December 25th, the week in order to make it possible to secure the special sweaters which are to be given to the boys following the banquet on Christmas Eve.

The Sons of America movement, having as its object the training of young men to live up to the principles and responsibilities of citizenship, was born in Ireland in February, 1893, and now, 27 years old, is finding a home in the United States. The Sons of America movement is community property, and its members are scattered throughout the country. This year the total amount collected has aggregated $22,000, a sum which is a division of this proportion.

In defense, Mr. DeMund declared his wife is a resident of Phoenix and that she has lived there for the past ten years. He moved to Phoenix in 1912, Mr. DeMund said, until two years ago, made his home at Glendale, where he and his brother, Charles, started a business there. After moving to this new home, Mr. DeMund said, the detectives were in waiting.

Mr. DeMund was married in Phoenix in 1912, and they have been married for two years.

In the complaint it is furthered that his wife is community property, and that she has been given $22,000.

Mr. DeMund retained his protection in the Arizona city.

RANCHER TO DEVELOP RICH VEIN.

EXCLUSIVE CORRESPONDENCE. NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—John Horace, a famous rancher who has resided in this city for several years returned to his ranch and development of what he considers a very remarkable mine, situated near the Nacozari railroad line, which has a tract of 129 porters, on which a 300-foot tunnel has been carrying high value in silver, lead and copper. A section mainly is remarkable for its size and is to be drilled in the hope of developing a large value.

FIND GARMENTS OF DEAD WOMAN

dict streets. He was walking through the grove toward the Los Feliz Road when he caught a glimpse of some cloth between a pile of dried eucalyptus leaves and twigs.

The bundle lay at the base of a tree, wrapped by the dried and rain-soaked foliage. It was a dark coat, or rather the cloth from it, formed the outer covering of the body. The body was tied at the top with the new shoelaces which had been cut away from the woman's stockings and with another string formed by the undergarments.

Mrs. Sudow's dark wine-colored two-piece dress, all cut and torn into strips, was visible in the base of the tree, which was stripped of its bark, the shoes, which showed several cuts from a sharp knife with which the strings had been severed, a carpet cover of an undergarment, also cut and torn. There was practically nothing left.

The dark beaver hat which Mrs. Sudow was wearing had been worn twice. The band had been laid on the top of the pile before it was cut. The brim of the hat shows plainly where the heavy blows that crushed the skull were given. The brim is also indented in two places corresponding with the mortal wounds in the skin of the woman.

There were two other holes in the hat, however, which seemed to have been caused by the theory of the investigators that a heavy and blunt instrument was used to smash the skull and that the clean cuts on the front and on the side of the head were inflicted with the knife used in the mutilation.

Detective Sergeant Fayard and Carl R. Williams, who were the first officers at the scene of the finding, made a careful search of the grove, but found no trace of the weapons or any trace of the severed parts in the case. In view of Mrs. McLaughlin's admission that she lived with Mrs. Sudow at 811 Temple Street, the investigators surmised that the white hairs found on the woman's coat may be of little significance to them in their search for the killer.

These, the detectives say, match perfectly the hair of Edward McLaughlin, one of the suspects in the case. In view of Mrs. McLaughlin's admission that she lived with Mrs. Sudow at 811 Temple Street, the investigators surmised that the white hairs found on the woman's coat may be of little significance to them in their search for the killer.

Contributions for the sweater fund can be sent to The Times, or to the Americanization department of the local Y.M.C.A.

HOME RULE BILL SCORED BY PLUNKETT.

BRITISH TO SEND REPLY ON MANDATE.

EXCLUSIVE CORRESPONDENCE. NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—The British government's "Irish bill" may go through at Westminster, but it will never be acceptable to Ireland, Sir Horace Plunkett, Irish statesman and father of the "Dominion Solution," told today on his arrival from Liverpool on the Baltic.

The trouble with the bill, Sir Horace declared, is that it represents the interests of only about one-third of the people of Ireland, and is repugnant to the people of the rest.

"It is not the way to Irish peace," he added.

Sir Horace said he would not appear as a witness before the Committee on Home Rule, but he expects to submit his visit here as solely one of recreation.

He will leave New York very soon for the West, he said.

"I will lose myself for about two months. I want to be quiet and compare the Ireland now, America, a wilderness."

PRETTY GIRL TAKES LEAD IN HOLDUPS.

EXCLUSIVE CORRESPONDENCE. NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—A pretty girl with a pearl-handled revolver today played the leading part in three daylight holdups in the North Side residential district.

In each case she pretended to be lost, stopped a passer-by and asked him to direct her to an address which always proved to be only a few doors away. Generally she pointed out the exact door, but when it was reached the pearl-handled revolver was placed against his side and he was ordered to drop his purse. The girl did this without fail.

Inside two men completed the holdup and tied the victim to a bed. Then the girl went out for another.

After three men had been robbed and tied, the bandits left, and one of the victims broke loose and noted the police.

WASHINGTON ON THE LOOKOUT FOR COACH.

EXCLUSIVE CORRESPONDENCE. NEW YORK, Dec. 19.—With the cessation of activities on all war fronts, the Russian soviet government announces discontinuance of the daily bulletins, says a Moscow dispatch to the Daily Herald. The "labor paper" reports the first time since the formation of the soviet government that such a condition has existed.

Leon Trotsky, the soviet War Minister, in speech last night, said that although there is no longer any war front, Russia at present is not threatened by any danger, she cannot yet afford to disarm.

SANDWICH FOLK GET SURPRISE.

Legend is Now Making Amid Hills of New England.

Tis All Because Pasadena Girl Weds at "Home."

Ancestral Mansion Setting for Colorful Affair.

Down from the snow-bound slopes of New Hampshire's bleak hills have come tricklings for the last few days remnants of little-taken paths, when verified and utilized together, told yesterday the true story of a wedding that scuttled the tranquility of a quaint New England community. The wedding was that of Miss Ruth Hoyt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Hoyt of Pasadena, to Leroy Saunders, a Seattle newspaper man, a historic event in the annals of New England, a quiet town.

Sandwich is so isolated from the outside world that when an ordinary stranger strolls into town the inhabitants stand spellbound on the main street and stroke their whiskers. But the coming of the village belle uponed upon when a group of uniformed naval officers appeared and Sandwich was practically on the map.

The dark beaver hat which Mrs. Sudow was wearing had been worn twice. The band had been laid on the top of the pile before it was cut. The brim of the hat shows plainly where the heavy blows that crushed the skull were given. The brim is also indented in two places corresponding with the mortal wounds in the skin of the woman.

There were two other holes in the hat, however, which seemed to have been caused by the theory of the investigators that a heavy and blunt instrument was used to smash the skull and that the clean cuts on the front and on the side of the head were inflicted with the knife used in the mutilation.

Detective Sergeant Fayard and Carl R. Williams, who were the first officers at the scene of the finding, made a careful search of the grove, but found no trace of the weapons or any trace of the severed parts in the case. In view of Mrs. McLaughlin's admission that she lived with Mrs. Sudow at 811 Temple Street, the investigators surmised that the white hairs found on the woman's coat may be of little significance to them in their search for the killer.

These, the detectives say, match perfectly the hair of Edward McLaughlin, one of the suspects in the case. In view of Mrs. McLaughlin's admission that she lived with Mrs. Sudow at 811 Temple Street, the investigators surmised that the white hairs found on the woman's coat may be of little significance to them in their search for the killer.

Many Notable Educators Will Address Sessions.

Faked Orders Used in New Swindling Scheme.

Prominent Canadian on Long Trip for Holidays.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE
PASADENA, Dec. 19.—The Pasadena Teachers Institute will open a three-day session tomorrow morning in the auditorium of the First Congregational Church. The institution was founded in 1890, and the high school class at the Muir School, but the high school heating plant is being repaired and the Muir assembly hall is still closed.

W. F. Ewing, principal of the high school, will preside at the opening session tomorrow. Speakers at the meeting will include Dr. M. A. Honine, associate superintendent of the department of education; Internation Sunday-school teacher, Mrs. William Andrew, assistant superintendent New York City schools, and Dr. C. E. Chadsey, dean of education University of Illinois.

A NEW SWINDLER.

A new kind of swindler is operating in Pasadena. He calls himself a wife with a fake order from her husband for $1 or $2 for alleged services performed.

G. O. Tibbles, chief dispatcher of the Pacific Electric Railroad here, reported to the police that his car had been swindled out of $2 by a forged note from him. A conductor of the same company made a similar report. The swindler is known to someone who is acquainted with the local Pacific Electric.

TO ENCOURAGE RESIDENTS.
An amendment to the tax laws so that dwellings from the East will be encouraged to establish their legal residence in Southern California, but will not be taxed both here and in their former homes, will be urged by the tax committee of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce. The committee will hold a meeting Saturday morning.

The local organization will co-operate with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other Southern California cities in this movement.

BOY SCOUTS' SERVICES.

All the Boy Scouts of Pasadena attended a special Scout's service tonight at the First Congregational Church. The feature of the service was the reading of an original story dedicated to the Scouts, by Dr. Daniel Fox, pastor of the church. Fifty Scouts of the church appeared in a tableau entitled, "A Good Scout."

LONG TRIP FOR HOLIDAYS.
Raymond Massey, a student at Oxford, England, has left the Atlantic coast of England and has also crossed the continent to Pasadena to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Massey, of Toronto, who are living at the Maryland this winter. The elder Mr. Massey is the head of the Massey-Harris Company, which manufactures farm implements.

MISS ARMOUR TO WED WEALTHY CHICAGOAN.

SANTA BARBARA PREPARES FOR A BRILLIANT SEASON IN HONOR OF EVENT.

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH!

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 19.—An announcement at Chicago of the engagement of Miss Lorraine Armour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Odgen Armour and heiress to one of the greatest fortunes in the country, to John J. Mitchell, who has been raised here and has connections in Butterfield, Monte Carlo society circles. Mitchell, son of one of the richest bankers of Chicago, is well known in Monte Carlo social circles.

Miss Armour is expected here after the holidays to spend several months in the Hotel Montecito, one of the finest private estate in that section. It comprises what were formerly three separate private houses, each containing two bedrooms, and the house is now owned by the Armour's for their daughter. There she has entertained such winter and spring, coming out from Chicago, and requires your presence with a private car filled with girl friends as her guests.

For four years Chicago landscape architect, Mr. Frank C. Sargent, has been beautifying the Armour grounds at Montecito. One order of tulips alone for the grounds cost $25,000, it is stated.

Author is performing a series of brilliant functions in Miss Armour's honor, and because of these the society season, which will begin in Monte Carlo about Jan. 1, promises to be the gayest the multimillionaire section has ever known.

TORRANCE ACTIVE.

Many New Homes Being Erected; Buildings Planned.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

TORRANCE, Dec. 19.—The industrial city will soon become known as a city of homes, for at the present rate of building, the majority of the employees of industrial plants located here will make their homes in Torrance, instead of going to surrounding towns for accommodations. Among recent sales are ten lots of the Pacific Electric property, and houses are now under construction for the employees of that company. C. E. Oatley has commenced a house on an acre lot on Carson avenue. A. A. Wilson has a new residence under construction. Mr. and Mrs. Dominguez Land Company is planning a number of three-room bungalows, which will be priced on the market soon as available.

The $20,000 auditorium for Torrance is now nearing completion. The First National Bank—a new institution—will be completed in time assured, as is also the hospital to be built by the recently organized Hospital Association. The present dining facilities are running on a half-day schedule on account of the great number of pupils which must be accommodated. A dormitory is under construction to add a new $20,000 unit to the present school buildings in order to care for the increased enrollment.

SHIP SALT TO EUROPE

Arizona Mines Have Market With Foreign Factories.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE)

JEROME (Ariz.) Dec. 17.—The sodium sulphate of the Camp Verde salt beds is to be shipped to dinavian paper factories and Dutch and Belgian glass factories. The annual consumption of salt cake, mainly of artificial manufacture, is around 500,000 tons annually. At Camp Verde it is said to be the purest and most valuable of all the salts ever found for "gilding" ranges cattle. It is found to contain almost negligible impurities of pure chloride and to have a grain superior to the stock that it is shipped to Europe will be water from Los Angeles Harbor.

ROCKS LIKELY TO YIELD OIL

Heating Test Often Reveals Paraffine Content.

Colorado Shales Offer Good Promise of Reward.

Origin of Petroleum Proves Problem to Chemists.

BY ROH.

Petroleum is a mixture of hydrocarbons very often occurring as of the paraffine series, wherein the temperatures of melting and boiling increase as the number of carbon atoms in the molecule increases. Those members of the series containing the most carbon atoms in the molecule are sold at ordinary temperatures. Four of the series are gaseous at ordinary temperatures.

This mixture of hydrocarbons has been obtained in the laboratory in the destructive distillation of fish oil, shale, asphaltum, etc., complete by which petroleum will be had in commercial quantities from a number of substances found in the earth.

Stockhardt is of opinion that asphaltum and also petroleum are derived from layers of coal which have been heated in the interior of the earth, volcanic fire. Lesley states that the origin of petroleum is still an unsolved problem.

That it is in some way connected with the great abundant accumulations of paleozoic seaweeds, the marks of which are so infinitely numerous on the rock, and with the infinitude of corals, seems to be the skeleton of which make up a large portion of the limestone formation, while the several thousand feet beneath the Venango sand group, scarcely admits of dispute, but the exact process of its manufacture, of its transfer and of its storage in the gravel beds, is utterly unknown.

ASCENDED TO SAND.

That it ascended into them rather than descended seems indicated by the fact that the lower sands are oil when they are dry, and that the upper sands hold oil when they extend beyond or overhang the lower. Aspinwall believes that petroleum is the result of decomposition of marine plants, as coal is the result of terrestrial vegetation.

Those well up on the subject of geology present theories consisting of new and many names for the rocks, and the names of the state relating to old fossils, synclines, anticlines, domes, sedimentary references, clays, etc., all of which, so far, have practically proved to be mere

LONG SHAFT TO SHALES.

Why not run an incline shaft of 40 degrees under the surface of water near at hand, make use of a process which will obtain from the shale, oil, gas, gasoline and by-products that will astonish the world?

It is the work of the oil prospector to seek new fields for hydrocarbons, and the oil companies are faced with money staked by Congress or by those red-blooded men who have backed prospectors to the limit in the search for oil and gas.

It is true that the minerals should be placed on railroads on the oil fields, such lines of travel could easily be obtained from the storage of waters from melting snows. The Mekrash compressed air system would also be of value as a substitute for oil.

Petroleum occurs in rocks of all sizes, from the lower Silurian to the modern, where the oil is found in compact sandstones and shales; black shales and much bituminous coal afford it when they are heated, and the oil is not present in these rocks when tested with benzene, heat is required.

There is no gas present in the older rocks. There is no gas under ground where the oil is found, but it has been turned up topsy-turvy, on edge, fractured or faulted. Pay no attention to half rocks folded, faulted or crushed. When the rocks have remained undisturbed, there is a chance of finding gas if not oil. Finally, the older rocks of has been found there and in the surrounding region is sure to exist.

TO DRILL AT GLENDALE.

Large Acreage Tied Up; Rig Now Being Put in Place.

ISPECTION CORRESPONDENCE

GLENDALE, Dec. 18.—Predicting that one of the best oil fields in the country is just at the edge of the city limits of Glendale, W. L. Burt, president of the Burt-Brown-Charles Henry, a Glendale citizen, expert; Charles Henry, Jr., of Van Nuys, and John Beta, Jr., of Van Nuys, are getting an oil rig on the lease on the "P" and "D" ranches.

Confidence that oil will be found in great quantities, they have secured leases on 700 acres to the east of the city limits of Glendale, where the first well is to be drilled. For years the preliminary work has been done, and the road has been graded to the site of the well, and the land has been leveled and leveled.

The ones do not look to be worthy of assay. It would be a good plan to prospect at a point where the surface shows "spots" of gas.

Beryllium.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 4.—Q.—Will you kindly inform me the size and magnitude and location of any beryllium deposits, which may exist, in the State of California.

A.—There are no deposits of the mineral, peridotite or clinopyroxene in California. There are, however, quite a number of places in the State, where the double silicates of beryl and what is often referred to as aquamarine (emerald) occur in greater or lesser quantities as garnet, pyroxene, etc. No. 4 is red (ochreous) calcite; zinc, pyrite, and magnetite are common.

We do not know of any California locality where helvite (a silicate of magnesium, iron and beryllium) occurs. The double silicate of beryl (phenacite) has been reported from near Palma. Chrysoberyl occurs sparingly in Riverside county, but we do not know of definite localities to refer to.

Silicate beryl occurs in granite at Ramona, near Jacumba, the Mountains, near Mesa Grande, and at the Mack Beryl mine near Rincon. The beryl of interest at the localities is chiefly that of green quality.

It is probable that, if you desire quantities of beryl, unit for units, the locality desired is probably near Cedar Creek, near the Cedar Creek Gold Mine, South Dakota. Large crystals and names of the mineral occur at the South Dakota points named in pegmatite formations.

Pyrophyllite.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.—Q.—In inclosing herewith small sample of mineral, would you please advise me as to what it consists of?

The sample is named with my name and address. Thanking you for this courtesy.
